Comment: My name is Joe Oliver, and after reading your proposed rule that could eliminate certain free over the air TV stations in favor of paid programming, it appears your new rule is not money blind. It also appears to be a rule fostered by those making mega-billions, no matter the disguise, who are not satisfied and want to now squeeze the common man who may opt to only watch FREE TV stations, as, that is all he and his family can afford these days. This particular act by Congress is unfair, with no thought for the poor among us who rely on free television.

Therefore, please view this short comment due to char restrictions on your form based submission as, not only a comment but a complaint. Every state has a consumer protection law that prohibits deceptive practices, and many prohibit unfair or unconscionable practices as well. These statutes,
